		BOER WAR WRITING SLOPE
X	005	Writing slope belonging to the late Lt C.N.A. Graham – died of wounds 13 th October 1901 The Mahogany brass bound writing slope has his name and rank engraved on the lid of the box. There are two keys to lock the box. “Lieutnant Charles Nigel Andrew Graham, Mounted Infantry, 3rd Battalion, Northumberland Fusiliers, died 13th October 1901 at Middelburg, Transvaal, of wounds received in action near Koornfontein, 28th August 1901. He was the only son of the late Major-General F.W. Graham, 12 Ashburn, Place, South Kensington, and Mrs Graham, of Charlcome Camberley, Surry, was born in September 1879 and educated at Cheam, Eton (Mr Hare’s), and Oxford. At Eton he was an enthusiastic volunteer, and a 2nd Lieutenant in the School Corps. He entered the Northumberland Fusiliers from the Battalion Rifle Brigade, March 1900, being promoted Lieutenant the following August. Soon after joining the Northumberland Fusiliers he was appointed assistant adjutant to his battalion. In February 1901, a mounted infantry company was formed for service; Lieut Graham jointed it, and proceeding to South Africa, served with it till his death. Whilst being carried from the field wounded and under a heavy fire, he heard a shout “another man hit”. In terrible pain and weak, he directed his bearers to leave him and look after the other wounded man: “His one thought” his commanding officer writes “was always for others”		2000
